Young Rembrandts Art Program

Young Rembrandts drawing classes will be at Summit Park, Fort Garrison, Bedford, Winand, Woodholme, Wellwood, and Milbrook! Each year, we offer classes that boost self-confidence and train students in amazing art techniques.

We kick off Fall with NEW colorful lessons, learning about art history along the way. It doesn't matter if your child is new to drawing or a seasoned pro—everyone is going to have fun and learn a lot. Our content is based on child-friendly subjects that open the imagination and stretch the mind. Young Rembrandts' unique step-by-step method brings out the best in each child and boosts classic learning skills. Don't miss out, enroll now at www.pikesvillerec.org! For more information, please contact Grace Lee at (443) 866-3388 or grace.lee@youngrembrandts.com

About Us

The Greater Pikesville Recreation and Parks Council, Inc. (GPRC) is the authorized agent of the Baltimore County Department of Recreation and Parks for the Greater Pikesville area. GPRC is proud to support a variety of programs and activities to the community. Please visit www.pikesvillerec.org for more information or to get involved!

Should you require special accommodations (i.e. sign language, large print, etc.) please give as much notice as possible by contacting the Therapeutic Recreation Office at 410--887-5370 (Voice) or 410-887-5319 (TT/Deaf). This program is designed to provide a healthy and enjoyable leisure experience for your child. However, these are not childcare programs (except for the Discovery programs) and are not designed to provide child care. Therefore, parents are encouraged to discuss attendance expectations with their children. Department staff and volunteers cannot detain youth wishing to leave at any time.
